1. Abstracts are to be submitted via the official electronic abstract submission website and should be limited to 500 words in length. You must have a minimum of 50 words in the abstract text. There will be a 25-word count penalty for each table and 25-word count penalty for each graph you include in your abstract.
2. Abstract Format: Introduction Materials & Methods Results Conclusions
3. Abstracts may be submitted for any of the following presentation formats:
 - a. Oral presentation
 - b. Video Abstracts
 - The submission should be a narrated and edited video educating viewers about a procedure or technique, and the video should be of the procedure/technique itself (not a video of an author talking or describing a procedure)

- No additional written abstract is necessary - the submitted video must be the abstract itself.
 - The title of the video abstract should describe the procedure or educational content.
 - A summary of institutional results with the procedure should be described, if possible.
 - The maximum length of the video is 5 minutes. Accepted video abstracts will be presented in their entirety, with one minute allotted for audience questions.
4. The abstract text MUST NOT identify either the authors or institutions from which the work originated. There will be a separate area online in which to indicate all authors, including the presenting author.
 5. Disclosure information must be provided for each author listed in the author block.
 6. Email addresses must be provided for each author listed in the author block.
 7. Indicate whether the abstract you are submitting has been previously presented. If yes, please provide detail of this presentation (i.e. location, date, etc.).
 8. All abstracts must be completely submitted, and all edits must be made by Monday, March 20, 2023 @ 11:59 pm (EST). Submissions and edits are automatically saved; there is no “submit” button. You will not be able to make edits to your abstract after the posted deadline. Faxes and hardcopy abstracts will not be accepted.

8. Authors may submit as many abstracts as they wish for consideration, but selected individuals may deliver a maximum of two (2) oral or poster presentations. In the event that more than two (2) abstracts from an author are accepted for oral presentation additional selected abstracts must be presented by a co-author. We encourage you to become part of this educational program.

The Program Committee for the Section will review all abstracts in a blinded format at the Program Committee Meeting. At that time, they will make their final selections for the 2023 Scientific Program. The presenting author of each abstract will be notified of the decision via email by late May/early June.
